Post-War Program

The Adjutant General's Office

THE Adjutant General's Office at present faces the two-fold task of building a peacetime Army through recruitment and officer integration while completing demobilization of a wartime Army of approximately 8,000,000.

Maj. Gen. Edward F. Witsell, The Adjutant General, this week completed his first year in office, a year filled with a multitude of duties in addition to the priority programs of recruitment and demobilization. General Witsell was named Acting The Adjutant General 2 July 1945, and upon the retirement of Maj. Gen. James A. Ulio in January 1946 was officially named The Adjutant General.

During this transition period the AGO completed personnel records in order that complete files might be ready at time of separation. Over the most rapid period of demobilization more than 1 800 records a day were handled. Records are now in AGO custody of 9,628,000 individuals who served in World War II. Officer separations alone averaged 350 a day from September 1945, to January 1946.

Now virtually completed are casualty records of the war. A continuing task is the supervision of disciplinary centers and rehabilitation centers. During the past year approximately 30,000 general prisoners a month were handled in the general program of rehabilitation. The exact percentage of prisoners rehabilitated is not yet available but the program is considered exceptionally successful.

The maintenance, preservation and disposition of records amassed during the war is now followed by the task of recording and preserving the personnel records on a new Army. The speed and efficiency with which casualty reports were handled during the war by the AGO speaks well for the improved systems of filing and maintenance of records in operation at that time and presages continued efficiency in the handling of records.

To the AGO also is assigned the publication of all War Department directives, circulars, memorandums, orders, technical manuals and the many forms currently used to facilitate Army administration.

The complex problems of the war just won were added to by the dual task of raising an Army and at the same time demobilizing one. Undoubtedly new problems will arise with the building of this new Army which must be met and solved by the AGO. As the adjutant general of a command is the executive for administrative affairs for the commander, his Retirement for Nat. Gd. and Reserves Proposed

Declaring that if the United States is to maintain the size National Guard and Reserves it will require its personnel "must be afforded some degree of security in their old age," Secretary of War Patterson this week proposed that Congress authorize non-disability retirement for the non-Regular components.

The War Department's proposal would authorize the retirement of both officers and enlisted men with 20 years service and credit for pay purposes would be given for both active and inactive duty.

Mr. Patterson suggested that the provisions be made part of the bill (S. 1974) which sets up a system of forced retirement for officers of the Regular Army and also makes provision for retirement in World War temporary ranks.

The War Department bill suggests that the Reserves and National Guard be paid on retirement at the rate of 2½ percent for each year of active duty and one-half of one percent for each year of inactive duty. It was necessary for him to point out, however, that this did not meet the approval of the Bureau of the Budget and was not in accord with the President's program.

However, in a hearing on the bill yesterday, Brig. Gen. H. A. Evans, executive director of the Reserve Officers Association, told the committee that Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughn, military aide to the President told him that Mr. Truman is in accord with the recommendations of the War Department in respect to payment for inactive service. Senator Maybank, chairman of the subcommittee, confirmed this, stating that he had a telephone call from the White House.

The redraft of S. 1974, in addition to entirely rewriting the provisions concerning Reserves and National Guard, also made other changes in the bill as follows:

Regular officers forced out by the boards would be discharged with only one year's pay if their service was less than 20 years (15 in original draft).

The proposed provisions for voluntary retirements of Regulars, at the discretion of the Secretary, was made to apply to those with not less than twenty and not more than thirty years active Federal Service. First draft read not less than fifteen years service.

An important change was that striking out the provision that former enlisted men retired as officers could not draw pay higher than 75 percent of the active duty pay of the fourth pay period. While this was originally the plan of the War Department it is understood that it met with considerable objection in Congress which already had voted provisions permitting former enlisted men of the Navy to retire as officers without restriction as to pay.

Also in the section authorizing retirements at highest war rank, changes were made so as to read as follows:

(d) Each member of the Army of the United States, other than a member of the Regular Army, heretofore or hereafter granted retirement pay under any of the laws specified in subsection 201 (b) of this title, shall receive

Autonomy For Navy Dentists

The administrative control formerly held by the Medical Corps over Navy dentists has been removed under a reorganization of the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery effected 28 June.

Pursuant to Public Law 288, approved 28 Dec. 1945, a Dental Division was established in the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery "to plan and direct all matters relating directly to dentistry."

Except for unusual and emergency situations and for organization and training for battle, dental personnel and equipment at ships and stations will normally be immediately subordinate to Commanding Officers without the intermediate control formerly exercised by Senior Medical Officers.

This means that all dental services will be under a Senior Dental Officer who will be responsible to his Commanding Officer for all professional and technical and administrative matters, including the submission of reports to the Bureau without endorsement by the Senior Medical Officer.

Enlisted personnel assigned to dental units are at present specially classified as prosthetics or general technicians, ratings which are expected to be included in the post-war rating structure. They will serve under Dental Corps officers.

The present Assistant Chief of the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery for Dentistry, Rear Admiral A. G. Lyle (DC) USN, will continue in that position under the Surgeon General, Vice Admiral Ross McIntire (MC) USN.

The War Department appropriation bill now carries a provision permitting surplus Navy dentists to be assigned to duty with the Army.

Navy's Legal System

A plan for creating "legal specialist" officers in the post-war Navy has been endorsed in the report of the Ballantine Board as an important factor in improving the Navy's legal and disciplinary system.

Under the recommendations of the board headed by Mr. Arthur A. Ballantine, prominent New York attorney, the Navy would draw legal specialists from three sources—the Regular Navy, Naval Reserve, and civil life—and, after training them, would employ them "in such a way that legal duties will be their primary duty."

The announcement was made coincident with dedication of the School of Naval Justice at Port Hueneme, Calif.

A call for requests from Regular and Reserve officers to apply for classification and assignment in legal duties was made last December in Alnav 427-45. Secretary Forrestal has now ordered a renewal of efforts to procure officers qualified in law to perform legal duties in the Office of the Judge Advocate General, Naval Districts, and the Fleet.

Legislation would have to be enacted by Congress before this specialist group, as well as those in communications, public relations and hydrography which are also proposed at present, could be created. In anticipation of this authority, however, the Navy has about 12,000 lawyers in the Naval Reserve from which it will recruit,

New Pay Law in Effect for All Armed Forces

Presidential signature having been affixed to the new pay bill on 29 June, increases in pay for all categories of personnel of the Armed Forces went into effect 1 July.

Putting the new law into operation, the Navy sent out an Alnav calling attention of pay officers to the new base rates (published in full in the ARMY AND NAVY JOURNAL issues of 22 and 29 June). The Army, however, made up a complete new set of pay tables for distribution to pay officers.

As was anticipated from the wording of the Act, the new increases apply to active and retired, enlisted, warrant, and commissioned personnel, and also to nurses, WACS and others whose pay is derived from the Regular Pay tables. Also the increases apply to longevity, overseas pay, and aviation and other special pay whose amount is expressed in law by a percentage of the base pay. For example, an enlisted man with base pay of $100, would receive $120 for overseas service (being 20 per cent) additional, while if overseas and on flight duty he would receive $180, which would include his 50 per cent for flight duty. The same applies to longevity.

Following are representative portions of the pay tables distributed by the Army. While each of the many possible steps in longevity pay is not given, any of the other number of years may be computed by applying the same percentage increases.

Gen. Eisenhower's Report

New York Herald Tribune—"General Eisenhower's report is a masterly document—dispassionate, employing detail and statistics skillfully so that they never obscure the main picture, suggesting the infinite complexities of the task in the military and political sphere, yet always maintaining an insistent undertone of drama and urgency."

Boston Traveler—"General Eisenhower's report is a masterpiece of direct, clear and comprehensive statement reflecting his uncanny ability to achieve harmony among sharply different armies."

Boston Herald—"This particular report was probably prepared by two captains, one British and one American. The report moreover is made to the Combined Chiefs of Staff and is dated 13 July 1945, nearly a year ago. So if you expect it to answer some of the criticisms made in Ralph Ingersoll's 'Top Secret,' or to discuss American-vs.-British personalities, you will be disappointed."

Newark Star-Ledger—"General Eisenhower's report on the sweep of his armies from Normandy to the Elbe, detailed and authoritative, should prove to be one of the most interesting documents of World War II."

New York Times—"This is contemporary history of the finest sort. It impresses one as the completely honest record of the man who was there and who was in charge."

Cleveland Plain Dealer—"Every page of the report has some new aspect of the campaign to reveal. Every citizen will find in it food for thought."

Richmond News-Leader—"General Eisenhower's report of operations from D-Day to the unconditional surrender of Germany is written in accordance with the predetermined policy of the War Department to issue 'popular' reports and narratives before the technical, comprehensive record is prepared for the court of history. This newspaper is jealous of every aspect of the deserved fame of Eisenhower. We have not liked to think that he will stand at the bar of history with a report less good than that of two of his great predecessors in command—Winfield Scott and Ulysses S. Grant. It would be small praise to say that Eisenhower's final report is better than Pershing's, because our beloved leaders in the First World War never undertook a report of the sort we are holding up as ideal."

Hartford Courant—"The report is General Ike himself, the broad-visioned soldier-statesman rather than the victorious commander gloating over feats of arms."

Worcester Telegram—"The report as a whole is the story of a great task greatly done, and it will confirm the public in its belief that the selection of General Eisenhower as Supreme Commander was preeminently wise."

Albany Knickerbocker News—"His report is objective, sincere, statistical and direct. Scanning the report, the reaction is certain that Eisenhower will receive high praise for his story and that he will set at rest many of the criticisms that have arisen."

Newark News—"Millions of words have been written on the great events that brought about the end of the war in the West, but none are so authoritative or give so clear a view as does General Eisenhower's report to the Combined Chiefs of Staff."

Baltimore Sun—"This report is one that can and should be read by everyone."

Chicago Tribune—"Patton's junior officers called Eisenhower 'the best general the British have.' He was a political front selected by the British because he was amenable to their plan of winning military glory at American expense. As a loyal supporter of this policy, Eisenhower will not rank high in American history. It is time for loyal Americans to throw off the yoke, just as Bradley and Patton did when they refused to be bound by a blueprint that would have made the armies of America mere auxiliaries following the banners of Britain."

General Officers

President Truman this week nominated 21 general officers for promotion in permanent grade of the Regular Army and nominated 12 temporary brigadier generals for temporary promotion to major general.

At the same time the War Department announced one grade reductions of 15 temporary major generals and the termination of the appointments of 30 temporary brigadier generals, virtually completing the program of reducing the general officer strength of the Army.

Under the War Department plan for allocation of 549 temporary general officer grades for the interim Army, the following is a breakdown:

Army Air Forces—Major generals and above, 65; brigadier generals, 130; total, 195.

Army Ground Forces and technical and supply services — Major generals and above, 120; brigadier generals, 234; total, 354.

Of those nominated for permanent promotion, five now hold permanent grades of brigadier general and temporary grades of lieutenant general and major general and are nominated for permanent promotion to major general. They are, with the temporary ranks, as follows:

Maj. Gen. Charles H. Bonesteel.
Lt. Gen. William H. Simpson.
Lt. Gen. Wilhelm D. Styer.
Lt. Gen. John K. Cannon.
Lt. Gen. Harold L. George.

The remaining 16 temporary lieutenant generals and major generals are nominated for promotion to permanent grades of brigadier general from their present permanent grades of colonel and lieutenant colonel. They are:

Lt. Gen. Charles P. Hall (Col., Inf.).
Lt. Gen. Lewis H. Brereton (Col., AC).
Maj. Gen. Stephen J. Chamberlin (Col., Inf.).

Lt. Gen. Willis D. Crittenger (Col., Cav.).
Lt. Gen. Geoffrey Keyes (Col., Cav.).
Maj. Gen. Harold R. Bull (Col., Inf.).
Maj. Gen. Henry S. Auerand (Col., FA).
Maj. Gen. James A. Van Fleet (Col., Inf.).
Lt. Gen. George S. Stratemeyer (Col., AC).
Maj. Gen. Clarence B. Huebner (Col., Inf.).
Maj. Gen. William B. Kepner (Lt. Col., AC).
Maj. Gen. Willard S. Paul (Lt. Col., Inf.).
Maj. Gen. St. Clair Streett (Lt. Col., AC).
Maj. Gen. Muir S. Fairchild (Lt. Col., AC).
Lt. Gen. Nathan F. Twining (Lt. Col., AC).
Lt. Gen. Ennis C. Whitehead (Lt. Col., AC).

Of the 12 nominated to be temporary major generals, 11 are assigned to the Air Forces and it was explained that their promotions were recommended to bring to 65 the Air Forces allocation of officers of the rank of major general or above as shown in the foregoing breakdown. The other officer on the list is Brig. Gen. Edward Bres, Engr-Res., Executive for Reserve and ROTC Affairs on the War Department General Staff. Although the rank of major general has been authorized for this position in the interim Army, General Bres has held the assignment since 15 Oct. 1945, with the rank of brigadier general.

The 12 temporary nominations are:

Brig. Gen. Eugene L. Eubank.
Brig. Gen. Grandison Gardner.
Brig. Gen. Thomas D. White.
Brig. Gen. Frederick W. Evans.
Brig. Gen. William D. Old.
Brig. Gen. Charles F. Born.
Brig. Gen. William E. Hall.
Brig. Gen. William H. Tunner.
Brig. Gen. Laurence C. Craigie.
Brig. Gen. George C. McDonald.
Brig. Gen. Francis H. Griswold.
Brig. Gen. Edward S. Bres.

The names of the 15 major generals and 30 brigadier generals reduced in grade appear in Army Orders in this week's issue of the ARMY AND NAVY JOURNAL.

16- & 20-year EM Retirements

Word reached the Senate Military Affairs Committee yesterday that the War and Navy Departments have agreed on revised provisions for S. 1438, which originally provided retirements for enlisted personnel after 16 and 20 years of active duty. It is understood that the agreement drops the 16-year retirement provisions but retains the 20-year retirements at higher rates than at present.

Navy Wants Surgeons

Calling attention to the fact that at the end of the war emergency the Navy Department will stand in need of surgeons because existing law authorizes the President to appoint only 100 Acting Assistant Surgeons, the Department has requested the enactment of a bill to authorize the appointment of 250 for the post-war needs of the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery of the Navy. Responding to the request, Senator Walsh, Mass., has introduced the necessary legislation.

The Acting Secretary of the Navy, Under Secretary John L. Sullivan, stated in an explanatory letter:

"It is planned in the post-war Navy to continue to recruit officers for the Medical Corps by the appointment of graduates of schools of medicine as Acting Assistant Surgeons for internships in naval hospitals. It is the experience of the Navy Department that appointment in the Medical Corps should be for a probationary period, during which the qualifications of the appointee and his adaptability for the naval service can be determined."

Secretary Sullivan stated that great difficulty is expected in securing the needed number of medical officers for the post-war Navy because a very small percentage of 13,500 reservists contacted by mail wish to transfer to the Regular Navy, and "a large percentage of those reserve officers desiring to transfer—are not eligible because of their age and physical status."

Pointing out that "In the past the majority of original appointments to the Medical Corps of the Navy has been of physicians who completed their internship in civil life and were appointed directly to the grade of Assistant Surgeon," Secretary Sullivan said that securing Assistant Surgeons from civilian sources will be difficult because "interns are offered excellent advanced training as resident physicians in civilian hospitals and an opportunity to specialize in a particular branch of medicine" and that still "others are offered teaching assignments and partnerships with prominent and outstanding physicians."

Medical Service Corps

Maj. Gen. Norman T. Kirk, The Surgeon General, this week submitted plans to the War Department for a regrouping of three Medical Department branches as a Medical Service Corps.

In General Kirk's plan legislation will be sought to organize a Medical Service Corps which would place Pharmacy, Sanitary, and Medical Administrative Corps under one table of organization.

Additional duties for pharmacists are also outlined in the plan. Provisions are made for a pharmacist officer to serve in the Office of the Surgeon General, acting as advisor to The Surgeon General on all pharmacy matters and directing pharmaceutical activities of the Medical Department.

Pharmacist officers would be charged with the purchase, examination, shipment, storage and standardization of the drugs and medical supplies of the Army. In command functions they would be placed in charge of all types of Medical Supply depots as well as subordinate positions in the depot. They would be named assistants to surgeons in battalions and regiments, as commanders of headquarters and medical battalion units, adjutants, medical and general supply officers and laboratory officers in Medical and General laboratories. Duty as instructors at training schools is also planned.

Under the plan pharmacists would be qualified to serve as pharmacy officer, executive officer, adjutant, supply officer, mess officer, registrar, evacuation officer, hospital detachment commander and detachment of patients commander.

More authority would be given pharmacists in combat units, serving as medical and general supply officers to medical groups and battalions and commanding ambulance units.

In explaining his plan to the Senate Military Committee last January, General Kirk said that this new corps would also include officer personnel in optometry, sanitary engineering, biochemistry, parasitology, entomology, bacteriology, serology, physiological chemistry, clinical psychology, and other allied science or administrative positions. He said the new corps was designed to include those who have qualifications and degrees to supplement and be adjuncts to the Medical Corps "but who are not truly professional men as are doctors of medicine or doctors of dentistry."

Adm. Bowen to be Promoted

The President this week nominated Rear Adm. Harold G. Bowen, USN, to be a Vice Admiral for temporary duty.

Army Appropriations Bill

The House has approved and sent to the Senate the conference report on the Military Establishment Appropriations Bill for 1947 containing total appropriations of $7,263,542,400.

Among items settled in a conference committee of Senate and House representatives was that for "horses, draft and pack animals," for which $150,000 is set aside instead of the $100,000 originally requested by the Army and approved by the House, or the $200,100 as proposed by the Senate.

General Jacob L. Devers, Chief of the Army Ground Forces, had told the House Appropriations Committee that although horse cavalry is a thing of the past, "instruction in this subject, particularly mechanized reconnaissance, must continue." He said the "art of animal management must be retained in order that units may be capable of supporting and supplying themselves in mountainous terrain."

The conference-reported bill eliminates a provision proposed by the Senate barring the use of Air Corps appropriations for research or procurement of rockets or guided missiles, which, the conference report stated, "come under the 'normal' cognizance of the Ordnance Department."

A provision which has been carried in the bill for many years forbidding officers from certain activities in connection with publications which solicit advertising from firms doing business with the War Department was stricken from the bill by the Senate, but the conferees restored it to the measure.

Navy Hearing On Merger Bill

The Senate Naval Committee began executive hearings this week on the Presidential amended bill to merge the War and Navy Departments into a Department of Defense. As stated by Senator Walsh, chairman of the committee, "The committee met to try to find out what there is in the bill contrary to what was agreed on among the President and the Secretaries of War and Navy, the Navy Department claiming that the bill contains matters not agreed to between the Navy Department and the President."

Senator Walsh stated that "the committee is simply laying a foundation for working out changes in the bill."

Testifying at two sessions of the committee was the Acting Secretary of the Navy, W. John Kenney.

Admiral William F. Halsey, jr., testifying at one session, expressed his personal views against the legislation. Admiral Halsey, still on active duty, has a roving commission that will take him on a good-will tour, beginning this week, to the countries of South America.

Hearings on the bill will be continued next week when representatives of the naval air service will give their testimony.

To Our Readers

THE ARMY AND NAVY JOURNAL wishes the Services to know of its appreciation of the confidence they placed in it as evidenced by the flood of messages and telephone calls, local and long distance, which praised its issue of 29 June. Not only welcomed were our publication of the list of 9,800 names of officers Commissioned in the Regular Army but that of the text of the report of the operations in Western Europe made by General of the Army Eisenhower.

It was an enlarged issue, that of 29 June, requiring 64 pages, eight tons of paper, and overtime gladly contributed by our staff and by the personally and intensely interested employees of our printing plant of Fleet-McGinley.

Since VE day the text of every important report, notably those of General of the Army Marshall, Fleet Admiral King, and General of the Army Arnold, has been published in the ARMY AND NAVY JOURNAL.

This is something no other newspaper in the land has done and whereas the reports have been published by us without additional cost to our subscribers or newsstand purchasers, book firms and newspapers are vending the reports, notably those of General Marshall and Eisenhower, for $1 a copy.

We have been embarrassed by the demand for the ARMY AND NAVY JOURNAL, since it is always necessary to control our press run to conserve the paper that is extremely difficult to obtain and then only at a high cost. However, we have been able to supply our subscribers and all purchasers, but we repeat that in order to be sure to get the ARMY AND NAVY JOURNAL it should be subscribed for.

We take this opportunity to thank the Services again for the support they are giving us and the praise they have accorded to us, and we assure them they will be accorded weekly in the future the careful service we have sought in the past to render and constantly to improve.

29 June ANJ Popular

The 29 June issue of the ARMY AND NAVY JOURNAL containing the full text of the report of General of the Army Eisenhower on the operations in Western Europe together with the names of the newly commissioned 9,800 officers of the Regular Army was a most sought-after and popular issue.

Even though the War Department offices at the Pentagon building were officially closed on Saturday, 29 June, the newsstand at the Pentagon served long lines of officers who made special trips for their issues of the ARMY AND NAVY JOURNAL. The same was true at the various hotels and downtown newsstands.

At the ARMY AND NAVY JOURNAL's office, 1711 Connecticut Avenue, Northwest, there was a continual line of officers going up and down stairs, while the telephones and mails were flooded with letters containing orders and congratulations on the valuable issue.

Joint Army-Navy Research

A joint Army-Navy board has been established to coordinate research and development activities in the field of national defense in an integrated and unified program.

As an agency of the Secretaries of War and Navy, the board will be known as the Joint Research and Development Board. It will be headed by Dr. Vannevar Bush, president of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, D. C., and director of the Office of Scientific Research and Development, as chairman.

Other members of the board are General Carl Spaatz, Commanding General, AAF; General Jacob L. Devers, Commanding General, AGF; Assistant Secretary of the Navy W. John Kenney; Admiral DeWitt C. Ramsey, VCN0; and Dr. Lloyd Berkner of the Carnegie Institution, a former naval officer, who is executive secretary.

While promoting joint Army-Navy projects, which have increased in recent months, the research and development board will not attempt to control administration of these activities within the Departments, but will allocate responsibilities for the conduct of specific programs of joint interest.

along with its Regular Navy officers, a legal specialist group estimated by the Ballantine Board at about 400.

The legal specialists would serve not only as members of Navy courts-martial, but also as boards of review, as legal advisers on staff duty with commands afloat, with naval governors, and in the office of general counsel, which was established during the war to deal with legal problems of procurement of material, supplies and equipment.

One of these legal officers, after special training, "will be appointed as the trial judge advocate for a court-martial to advise the court, the prosecutor and the accused, impartially on all questions of law and procedure arising at the trial," the Navy Department announced in adopting other recommendations relating to modernization of its justice system.

Rear Admiral O. S. Colclough, Judge Advocate General, has been directed to prepare legislation to be proposed to Congress to carry out proposals already approved, including a revision of the Navy's legal manuals (Naval Courts and Boards, and Court Martial Orders).

In connection with the dedication of the Naval Justice School, Admiral Colclough announced that "as a commentary on the patriotism and loyalty of American youth," and "in spite of induction as compared to voluntary enlistment in the armed forces, the percentage of naval prisoners rose only from .173 in the pre-war period to .183 during the war."

Members of the Ballantine Board, besides Mr. Ballantine, were Justice Matthew F. McGuire of the District Court of the United States for the District of Columbia; Professor Noel T. Dowling of Columbia University; Maj. Gen. Thomas E. Watson, USMC; Rear Adm. George L. Russell, USN; Rear Adm. John E. Gingrich, USN; Rear Adm. George C. Dyer, USN; Capt. Leon H. Morine, USCG; Lt. Comdr. Richard L. Tedrow, USNR; and Lt. John J. Finn, USNR.

Action on other recommendations was deferred pending further study and a report of the board of which Professor Arthur J. Keeffe of Cornell University is president. The other recommendations included:

1. Clarification of what persons are subject to naval courts in what places and for what offenses.
2. Establishment of a board of review, composed of at least one civilian with legal background, one naval lawyer and one or more general service officers "of mature judgment" to review high-penalty and complicated cases.
3. Reduction from 13 to 9 of the maximum number of members on a general court martial.
4. Reduction in number of general courts martial by empowering summary courts martial to impose more severe penalties.
5. Announcement of sentences after approval by reviewing authority as is now required.
6. Establishment of a corps of officers who would make a career of legal duties or of legal specialists whose duties would be primarily in the field of law.

New Officers Confirmed

The Senate on 3 July confirmed the nominations of the nearly 10,000 new officers for commission in the Regular Army. The names were published in last week's issue of the ARMY AND NAVY JOURNAL.

Chemical Corps Favored

The War Department-sponsored bill to change the name of the Chemical Warfare Service to the "Chemical Corps," was reported out favorably this week by the Senate Committee on Military Affairs.

Discharge Criteria Lowered

The War Department 29 June ordered a reduction in discharge criteria for enlisted personnel following the passage by Congress and signing by President Truman of Selective Service legislation which allows any non-volunteer enlisted man who has completed 18 months' service to apply for discharge after 1 Oct.

The commanding generals of all overseas theaters and all major commands within the continental United States have been directed that the following regulations will govern the demobilization of non-volunteer personnel (insofar as shipping is available):

1. By 30 Sept., all non-volunteer enlisted fathers will be separated from the Army.
2. By 30 Sept., all non-volunteer enlisted men who will have completed 20 months' service will be separated from the Army.
3. Beginning 1 Oct., all non-volunteer enlisted men who will have completed 18 months' service by 30 Nov., will be eligible for separation from the Army and will be discharged by 30 Nov.
4. After 30 Nov., all non-volunteer enlisted men will be separated from the Army by the last day of the month in which they accumulate 18 months' service.

Previously announced discharge criteria for officers remains unchanged.

The criteria described above will apply to enlisted personnel of the Women's Army Corps until 30 Sept. 1946. The WAC will go on an entirely volunteer basis 1

UNITED STATES ARMY

Oct., and all remaining non-volunteers will be separated regardless of length of service during the month of October.

Gen. Maris Commands 1st Cav. Div.

Tokyo—Brig. Gen. Ward Maris has relieved Brig. Gen. William B. Bradford as acting commander of the 1st Cavalry Division. General Bradford will remain with the division, returning to command of the 1st Brigade.

General Maris will retain command of the division until the return of Maj. Gen. William C. Chase from a visit to the United States at which time General Maris will assume permanent duty as commander of division artillery.

Direct Commissions in Europe

Authority for the direct commission of 2,000 Second Lieutenants, AUS, has been granted Headquarters, United States Forces, European Theater, by the War Department.

Warrant Officers and enlisted personnel from any arm or service may apply provided they have a minimum of three months' service in this Theater prior to appointment. Those commissioned under this program are required to remain in the Army one year after receiving commissions.

Commissions in P. S.

AFWESPAC Hq. Manila — Approximately 400 Filipino applicants were processed during the first two weeks of the current program authorized by the War Department to appoint not more than 1500 Filipino Officers in the grade of 1st Lieutenant, 2nd Lieutenant and Captain in the Army of the United States for duty with the Philippine Scouts.

Eighth Army G-3

Yokohama — Col. F. A. Granholm of Seguin, Tex., has been assigned as operations chief in the Eighth Army G-3 section.

Commands Sixth Division

Seoul, Korea—Maj. Gen. Albert E. Brown took command of the Sixth Infantry division on 18 June.

Col. George M. Williamson, Sixth Division commander prior to General Brown's arrival, expects to return to the United States in the near future.

The AGO

representative and advisor on all matters of administration and staff functions not specifically assigned elsewhere, so The Adjutant General is the chief administrative executive for the Army.

Administration, a function of command, is as important a cog in the Army machine as its other command functions.

General Witsell is especially fitted by his past service and training to carry out the administrative duties of the post-war Army in its formative stage.

Graduated from The Citadel, Charleston, S. C., with the degree of Bachelor of Science in 1911, he was commissioned in the Regular Army as a second lieutenant of Infantry the next year. His service included tours of duty in the United States, Hawaii, and in Japan as Assistant Military Attaché.

Transferred to the Adjutant General's Department in 1934 General Witsell became Assistant to the Chief of the Enlistment Division, Panama Canal Department. He served as Acting Corps Area Adjutant General and Assistant to the Corps Area Adjutant General, successively, at Headquarters, First Corps Area, Boston, Mass., from Sept. 1936 to July 1937. He then went to Washington, D. C. for duty in the AGO in various capacities, becoming Chief of the Enlisted Men's Section in 1940. In March 1942 he was named Acting Adjutant General, Headquarters, Third Corps Area. Returning to Washington the following May, General Witsell was on duty in the AGO as Officer in Charge of the Control Division. He transferred to the Military Personnel Division in October 1943, subsequently becoming its Chief.

Temporary Officers Ship Over

Temporary USN officers whose appointments are terminated and then are issued Honorable Discharge certificates may re-enlist in enlisted status within 24 hours following discharge.

They will be granted re-enlistment leave with orders to report to the Receiving Stations nearest their leave addresses for assignment by the Bureau of Naval Personnel. In the interest of morale, the Bureau will not authorize their retention at the same duty station at which they served as temporary officers.

Temporary USN officers who do not re-enlist will be re-commissioned in their highest rank as Naval Reserve officers, in accordance with BuPers C/L 131-46.

Commissions For Navy Warrants
Radio Electricians and Chief Radio Electricians, Regular and Reserve, with electronic experience are eligible for consideration for temporary appointments to commissioned ranks of Ensign or Lt. (jg).

Warrant officers recommended must sign agreements to remain on active duty until 1 July 1947. Commanding Officers have been ordered, by Alnav 349, to submit recommendations.

EM Clothing Allowances

A recent Executive Order reducing initial clothing allowances for enlisted men of the Navy and Coast Guard does not lower quarterly clothing allowances, which remain at $20 for Chiefs, Cooks, Stewards, and Bandmen, and $12 for other enlisted men. The new order also leaves unchanged the $300 allowance granted to Chiefs, Cooks, Stewards, and Bandmen for initial seabag allowances, but reduces this figure for other enlisted men to $119.95.

Navy Electronics Courses

Applications are desired from non-aviation USN and USNR Chief Radio Electricians, Radio Electricians, and temporary commissioned officers of the rank of Lt. Comdr. and below having electronics or communications background and who have requested transfer to permanent warrant or commissioned in the Regular Navy for a one-year course in electronics engineering.

SKY TRAFFIC COP with 80-mile eyes

AIR TRAFFIC is rapidly reaching the stage calling for traffic control which extends far beyond the restricted range provided by present-day methods.

Navar, a radically new system of air navigation and traffic control, has been developed by IT&T's Federal Telecommunication Laboratories. The heart of this system is an electronic "traffic cop" with 80-mile eyes.

Navar will project an electronic "moving picture" on a chart in the airport control center—showing the exact location and identity of every plane in the air within eighty miles! This electronic moving picture is duplicated simultaneously in the planes. Every pilot not only sees his own plane but knows where all others are in relation to him as well as the ground.

Navar is the outgrowth of IT&T pioneering that way back in the thirties developed the first automatic radio compass, foretelling the end of "blind" flying. Now embellished with refinements of war-proved Radar, the new Navar system holds the golden promise of air traffic control with almost unbelievable exactness, and safety.

This is only one of many new ways in which IT&T is broadening man's horizon through progress in communications . . . television . . . radio.

Today, as for twenty-five years, the international experience of physicists and electronic engineering specialists of IT&T and its Federal Telecommunication Laboratories is dedicated to continued enrichment of the world through pioneer achievement.

SATURDAY, JULY 6, 1946

"America wears the mantle of world leadership."

—VICE ADMIRAL LOUIS E. DENFELD.

OUR PRIORITY LIST

1. Maintenance in accordance with professional studies of our national needs and international commitments, of Regular Establishments organized and trained in utilize and employ materials of war developed by continuing scientific research, and backed by Industry and Labor kept intimately familiar with the manufacture of such materials.
2. Reconstruction of National Guard and Reserve components federally aided and encouraged to maximum efficiency, and effectively coordinated with the Regular Services, and universal military training.
3. Increase in active and retired pay and allowances to meet risen costs so as to enable maintenance of American standards of living, and protection of such pay from reduction through income taxes.
4. Institution of orderly promotion systems in the Regular Establishments with recognition of war service and war ranks to prevent stagnation, and to insure the maintenance of high professional standards.
5. Continuance and expansion of service schools, including the Army and Navy Staff College, attendance of which shall be open to National Guard and Reserve officers.
6. Suitable rank and retirement benefits for former enlisted personnel and warrant officers who served as commissioned officers during the war.
7. Grant of the same rights and benefits to those who elect to remain in the Services as will be enjoyed by the discharged veterans.
8. Upward revision of pension scales to assure Service widows and dependents a living income.
9. Compensation for Service personnel who use privately owned automobiles on government business.
10. Maintenance of stock piles of strategic materials.

IT is unfortunate that the Congress, in spite of urgent warnings from Secretary Patterson, General of the Army Eisenhower, and General Devers, reduced the appropriations for "Field Exercises" from the recommended $10,000,000 to $7,000,000. The cut was made in the House and after strong representations from the military leaders the Senate restored the figure, but the conferees retained the lower amount. Thus, with the hostilities over, there is an immediate return to the old struggle of providing enough funds for the National Defense. It should be evident that without field training the value of an Army is reduced to that of care taking detachments. General Devers pointed out to the committee that the main reason for the existence of the Army Ground Forces, which he commands, is training. The Army had plans for four types of field maneuvers during the fiscal year—amphibious training for one division at Fort Ord, Calif.; mountain warfare for one regimental-combat team; air-borne operations for one-third of the Fifth Infantry and the full 82nd Airborne Division in the Ft. Bragg-Camp Mackall area; and cold-weather exercises in three phases: deep snow techniques for 1,500 men at Camp McCoy, Wis.; Arctic, dry, intense cold, at Fairbanks, Alaska, for 1,600 men; and Arctic, wet, intense cold, at Adak, Alaska, for 1,400 men. The largest part of the requested $10,000,000 was for the cold-weather exercises and according to Secretary Patterson the curtailment will require either that the entire Alaskan exercise be dropped, or be so reduced in scope as to seriously impede the accomplishment of the training and research mission for which it was intended. General Eisenhower gave special emphasis to training, recalling how he had wished all the troops had had pre-Pearl Harbor training. The General also stressed the necessity for the training of National Guard and Reserve Officers. "More than ever before in our history," General Eisenhower told the committee, "we must realize our dependence on these organizations, and particularly our need for getting them efficiently organized and trained. Much of the difficulty which comes from this so-called caste talk and that sort of thing arises from the fact that we do not have more classes of young men trained, not merely in the technique of leading a platoon in battle, but in the relationships which should exist between a leader and his men." Now that the reduced appropriations have been enacted into law, every effort should be made to secure supplemental appropriations for the field exercises or to find some way to transfer funds from other items so that the training may proceed as planned.

THE blast let loose in Bikini Lagoon on 1 July will, for many years, hold the interest not only of military and naval students but also of the foreign offices of the world powers, and the legislators and scientists of the world. Under the direction of Vice Adm. H. P. B. Blandy, USN, the test was so arranged (and apparently successfully carried out) that our military and naval men would be able to learn the powers of the atomic bomb under a multitude of conditions and have data upon which to work out measures of protection against its forces. Here in Washington, the House Military Affairs Committee, seeking to assure military or naval representation on the Atomic Energy Commission in which will be vested the development and use of the vast, new force, has amended the bill from the form in which it passed the Senate so as to require that at least one member of the five-man commission shall be a representative of the Armed Forces, and to require that the Director of the Division of Application, to be established within the Commission, shall be a representative of the Armed Forces. Such modest representation on the commission, while far from the "military control" the opposition has been loudly shouting about, will serve at least to keep the forces of National Security informed as to progress and developments and enable them to put the problems and needs of National Defense before the Commission. To deny such a relationship would certainly be courting disaster. The War Department Appropriations bill carries $375,000,000 for "Atomic Services," covering research, construction, and plant operation for the "Manhattan Project" during the coming year. This figure is $25,000,000 less than the total estimated by the War Department, but inasmuch as it is $175,000,000 higher than the amount recommended by the Bureau of the Budget it is another evidence of the determination of Congress not to let our military forces lag in the field of this most stupendous of all destructive forces. These points, assurance of military and naval representation on any national atomic agency set up and the provision of sufficient funds for keeping up-to-date in developments are vital to our future.

Foolish Question
The irate prosecutor whirled on the defendant: "Madam," he shouted, trying to prove a vital point, "while you were taking your dog for a walk, did you stop any place?"
The courtroom crowd waited tensely for her answer.
"Sir," she answered quietly, "did you ever take a dog for a walk?"

Rabbit Pun
There was an old rabbit that lived in Brier Creek. He had lived there for years and years. No one knew how old he really was. One day some young rabbit reporters came to interview him. The interview ran something like this:
"Mr. Rabbit, how old are you?"
"Oh, I'm very old," the rabbit replied.
"Do you know why you have outlived your friends?" asked the bunny reporter.
"Do you do anything unusual?"
"Well, I always take a bath in beer. You might call that unusual," the old one said.
"Goodness, please tell us why you always take a bath in beer," asked the first reporter very quickly.
"Well, it gives me a few more hops."

(This Department is maintained as a service for ARMY AND NAVY JOURNAL subscribers. Please send return postage for direct reply.)

W.B.F.—To be reinstated in your Regular Army warrant officer grade after you have been relieved from duty as a commissioned officer you should write to the Warrant Officer Section, The Adjutant General's Office, Washington, D. C. The authority under which you may be reinstated is: AR 140-5, Paragraph 55, C-(1), dated 17 June 1941.

A.H.D.—The Marine Corps Personnel Office has advised us that there is no actual regulation which governs the terminal leave promotions of Marine Officers. This is merely a policy, and if you have served for 24 months in grade as captain and have an efficiency rating of 4.0 or higher you are eligible for this promotion.

E.Z.—Your date of rank as a warrant officer, junior grade, in the Regular Army will be 12 Feb. 1945, the date of your Selection Letter, according to the War Department.

J.W.N.—There is no Army decoration for service in China between the years 1935 and 1937. Although a ribbon for this service has been contemplated at various times, no action has been taken by the War Department. The Navy has authorized an award known as the New China Service Medal for duty in China between 7 July 1937 and 7 Sept. 1937.

AAF Scientific Board

First session of the New Army Air Forces' Scientific Advisory Board was 17 June through 21 June at Washington, D. C., and at Wright Field, Ohio.

Purpose of the Board is to keep the Commanding General of the AAF informed of scientific advances and to recommend courses of development which will lead most likely to the successful maintenance of the superior United States air power, born of the war.

Headed by Dr. Theodore Von Karman, chief of the Guggenheim Aeronautics Laboratory at the California Institute of Technology and one of the world's leading aeronautical scientists, the board met for two days in Washington and then proceeded to Wright Field for the remainder of the conference.

Report on A-Bomb

A report by the Manhattan Engineer District on the atomic bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki draws the following conclusions concerning damage and casualties:

In Hiroshima nearly everything up to about one mile from the ground point directly below the burst was completely destroyed except for reinforced concrete buildings. Interiors of these buildings were gutted.

In Nagasaki, 2000 feet from such a point reinforced concrete buildings with ten inch walls and six inch floors were collapsed; buildings with four inch walls were standing but badly damaged. At 2,000 feet some nine inch walls were completely destroyed.

Hiroshima suffered 135,000 casualties, or over 50 per cent of its population. Nearly half of the casualties were deaths. Nagasaki, a city of 195,000, suffered 64,000 casualties, of which 39,000 were deaths.

Both the Hiroshima and Nagasaki atomic bombs exhibited similar effects. In both cities heavy damage extended for a three-mile radius.

It was concluded that no harmful amounts of persistent radioactivity were present after the explosions. The information collected, the report states, would enable a reasonably accurate prediction to be made of the blast damage likely to be caused in any city where an atomic explosion could be effected.

AAF Board Probes Crash

Simultaneously with receipt of the report of a board which investigated the crash of an Army Air Forces plane into the Bank of Manhattan building at New York 20 May, AAF Headquarters 28 June disclosed that a recommendation of the board designed to prevent recurrence of such an accident had been put into effect.

Hereafter all Army aircraft except those on scheduled transport operations must report by radio to Mitchell Field, Long Island, N. Y., upon approaching within 50 miles of the southern tip of Manhattan, and in the event of bad weather in the metropolitan area, they must land at Mitchell Field, avoiding Newark Army Air Base and LaGuardia Field, N. Y.

The report said that no mechanical failure or material defect had been revealed by examination of the shattered wreckage of the plane, and that the crash resulted when the pilot became lost in a dense fog which suddenly blew in from the Atlantic.

ATC Ground Air Conditioning

Ground air conditioning in hospital planes will soon be inaugurated by the North Atlantic Wing of the Air Transport Command, Brig. Gen. Haywood S. Hansell, jr., Commanding General, has announced.

North Atlantic Wing stations, which include Westover Field, Mass., Morrison Field, Fla., Washington National Airport and Presque Isle, Me., have been requested to requisition portable ventilators. The ventilators will be used by ground maintenance crews for approximately 30 minutes before departure to decrease cabin temperature during ground operation.

Exhibit High Altitude Suit

The Army Air Forces unveiled another war developed secret 4 July when the "Inverted Fish Bowl" pressure suit developed for stratosphere flying was shown to an audience attending a CBS broadcast in New York City.

The pressure suit maintains normal pressure on the body up to 62,000 feet.

New ATC Route

A new military airline to Tokyo over "the top of the world," saving more than 18 hours of flying time each way, was opened 15 June by the Army Air Forces Air Transport Command.

The line follows a one-stop route from Seattle, Wash., to Tokyo, via Adak, in the Aleutian Islands. Present plans call for daily round-trips.

Over this new "Great Circle" route, skirting the Arctic, the flight to Tokyo can be made in 26 hours flying time. Present trans-Pacific route to Japan, via Hawaii and other Pacific islands, requires 44 hours.

Helicopter Development

To expedite evaluation and development of helicopter operating techniques for fleet uses and land-based operations, the Navy has commissioned a helicopter development squadron, XV-3, at the Naval Air Station, Floyd Bennett Field, New York.

Helicopter uses at sea are still in the experimental stage, although considerable progress has been made by the Coast Guard through its air-sea rescue organization.

The development program will follow several lines of helicopter-use, among which are:

1. As a potential supplement to conventional observation and scouting aircraft aboard non-carrier vessels, diminishing catapult uses and decreasing cumbersome and time-wasting recovery methods by crane, besides eliminating dangers of recoveries in heavy seas.
2. For ship-to-ship, and ship-to-shore liaison; for delivery of mail, personnel, and material in small quantities, eliminating the use of destroyers for minor deliveries to larger vessels.
3. Operating from carriers as an adjunct to destroyer escorts for rescuing ditched pilots and for liaison utility capacities.
4. For amphibious warfare, in reconnaissance, spotting, and landing craft control, and, similarly, for harbor control of surface craft in congested areas.
5. For inner anti-submarine aerial patrol, supplementing blimps, which are more visible to the submarine than helicopters.
6. For observation and photography of pilotless aircraft.

Jap Bomber Test

Exhaustive tests on the "Rita," last bomber designed by the Japanese before the end of the war, are getting underway at Air Materiel Command Headquarters, Wright Field. Any valuable results of the tests will be turned over to American industry and agencies for further exploitation in cooperation with the Army Air Forces.

The Rita, only one of its kind to survive the war, was flown to Wright Field 23 June from Newark, N. J., by Col. Harold E. Watson, acting Deputy Commanding General of Air Technical Intelligence at Air Materiel Command, and Maj. William J. Webb. The flight marked the first time that any American pilot had handled the controls of this newest of Japanese bombers.

Flying Safety Report

Five major Army Air Forces commands recently completed a week's activities without an accident of any kind, according to a report published this week.

The five commands reporting perfect records were the Air Defense Command, Technical Training Command, Proving Ground Command, the Air University and the Personnel Distribution Command.

High Frequency Radio Waves

Scientists of the Navy electronics laboratory of San Diego, Calif., are studying the effect of weather changes on high-frequency radio transmissions in experiments at an abandoned Army Air Base at Gila Bend, Ariz., with an extension of ultra short-wave radio, radar and television ranges to 2,000 miles as their objective.

Fifth Air Force I & E Office

Maj. Arthur L. Huff has been appointed Staff Information and Education officer Headquarters, 5th Air Force, Lt. Col. Charles F. Nelson, acting chief of the Information and Education section, announced.

USS Franklin Repairs Finished

The carrier USS Franklin, which barely survived a fire off the Japanese coast in March, 1945, has finished a fitting-out period following the completion of repairs in May, and has been retired to the inactive Fleet for Naval Reserve training.

Navy Medical Courses

Applications are desired from medical officers of the Regular Navy and Naval Reserve transferees of the ranks Lt. (jg), Lt., and Lt. Comdr. for a three-month course in aviation medicine at the School of Aviation Medicine, Pensacola, Fla. Two years' Naval experience including interest in the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery by 1 August. Class convenes 15 September for a limited quota of 20 students.

In some places it takes a whole new building

We've added a good many telephones in the last six months—something over 1,800,000.

But there's more than that still to be done. In addition to the instruments, we're putting in new switchboards, new cables, even new buildings in some places. For there never was such telephone growth before.

It's the biggest job the Bell System has ever had. But we'll get it done, and in the shortest time possible. We don't like to keep people waiting for telephone service.

SERVICE NEWS AND GOSSIP

Foreign Affairs—Just at the time when the world is waiting to learn the actual results of the Atomic Bomb tests, Soviet Ambassador Novikov has given public assurances that there is no basis for war between his country and the United States, and that the differences between the two nations must be ironed out. No doubt the demonstration of our possession of the bomb is having a large influence upon the atomic control discussions occurring in the meetings of the UN Committee and in the negotiations that are underway between the Big Four in Paris. It is believed in Washington that the UN will devise a formula for atomic safeguards which will be acceptable to the Powers and retain for the United States, Great Britain, and Canada the secret of the know-how of the bomb manufacture. In Paris, there appears to be in prospect a solution of the explosive question of Trieste. A border line between Italy and Yugo-Slavia has been approved in principle by the Powers, but it is liked by no one, not even by the Yugo-Slavs who will get the major portion of what they have always demanded. For Trieste there apparently has been accepted a proposal for the international administration of an autonomous zone for the city, port and surrounding territory. Such an administration would insure the ways being open to Central Europe and the Danubian Basin, but it would block Russia having a port through Yugo-Slavia from which to strike at the British Mediterranean life-line. As Russia has agreed to the transfer of the Dodecanese Islands to Greece, it would seem that she has abandoned much of her designs upon the Mediterranean.

That Trieste under the plan proposed will be a trouble-breeder is regarded as certain, but our Government is acquiescing in it because of the anxiety of the President and Secretary of State to call a twenty-one nation conference to approve the Treaties the Big Four have drafted. These officials insist there is danger in further delaying the establishment of formal peace with Finland, Roumania, Hungary, Bulgaria and Italy. Such a status would mean the withdrawal of the Soviet Armies of occupation, and also the forces we have in Italy and later Austria. The Soviet troops are imposing a heavy drain upon native resources, and quicker recovery for the occupied countries would result from their repatriation.

Subordinated in public notice by the Atomic bomb tests in the Pacific and the negotiations in Paris, but highly important upon the future of the world was the formal assumption of independence by the Philippines on our own Independence Day, this after 47 years of occupation and tutelage, which happily resulted in this freedom loving people cooperating with us to defeat Japan. The recognition of this status by the United States is certain to have a profound influence upon the Dutch East Indies, Indo-China and India, and cause their inhabitants to demand more intensively that they be granted the like condition. Dispatches from Manila have told of the ceremonies which marked the birth of independence. To General of the Army MacArthur a reception was given in accordance with the debt the Island Nation is under to him. Now that the Manila Government has sovereign power, there will quickly be made the Treaties under which our right to establish and maintain naval and air bases will be confirmed.

Joint Arctic Operation—Announcement was made in Ottawa and Washington simultaneously last week of a northern training cruise to be undertaken this Summer by a small contingent of U. S. Navy and Coast Guard ships. Approval of the Canadian government was obtained because the cruise will take place in some Canadian waters.

"Purpose of the cruise is to amplify existing knowledge of navigational and weather conditions and provide routine training for personnel," according to an official Navy announcement. Planes will be used to inspect ice conditions ahead of the cruise ships.

The Navy contingent will be under Capt. Richard H. Cruzen, USN, who commanded the famous USS Bear and acted as second in command to Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, USN-Ret., in the Antarctic Expedition of 1939-41. Ships presently assigned include the U. S. Coast Guard ice-breaker North Wind, commanded by Capt. Richard Hoyle, USCG, well known for his previous assignment with the North Atlantic International Ice Patrol; the naval converted ice-breaker Whitewood, commanded by Lt. Comdr. William H. Daly, USN, who also served in the Byrd Antarctic Expedition; and the naval sea plane tender Norton Sound, commanded by Capt. Alan Smith, Jr., USN.

Ships of the Navy contingent will sail from east coast ports early this month and are expected to return in October. Officers of the Canadian Army, Navy and air forces will participate.

Corps of Engineers—A new district known as the Garrison District has been established with temporary headquarters at Ft. Lincoln, N. D., under the jurisdiction of the Division Engineer, Missouri River Division. The territory of the Garrison District will be the watershed of the Missouri River and tributaries entering it between the mouth of the Yellowstone River (North Dakota) and the North Dakota-South Dakota state line, and that portion of the James River Basin lying in North Dakota. The territories of the Ft. Peck and Omaha Districts are modified accordingly.

Another new district, designated the Panama District, has been established, with headquarters in the Canal Zone. The Panama District will be under the jurisdiction of the Division Engineer, South Atlantic Division, and will have jurisdiction over all military construction and military real estate matters for which the Chief of Engineers has a direct responsibility within the geographical boundaries of the Panama Canal Department of the Caribbean Defense Command, and such other localities as may be specifically assigned.

The present Puerto Rico District was redesignated the Antilles District and transferred from the immediate jurisdiction of the Chief of Engineers to the jurisdiction of the Division Engineer, South Atlantic Division.

That portion of the Platte River Basin above the junction of the North Platte and South Platte Rivers, Nebraska, presently within the territorial limits of the Omaha District, has been withdrawn from the jurisdiction of the Omaha District and transferred to the Denver District.

Chemical Warfare Service—Twenty-six officers and civilian technicians represent the Office of the Chief of Chemical Warfare Service as observers at "Operations Crossroads." Their assignment is to check and study the effects of atomic bombs on gas masks, other protective devices and munitions of the Chemical Warfare Service. The officers are:

Col. L. E. Fellenz, 1st Lt. G. W. Beveridge, Harold W. Batchelor, Col. A. W.

Meetze, Col. J. R. Wood, Lt. Col. J. H. Batte, Lt. Col. N. Birnbaum, Maj. W. H. R. Howard, Maj. R. V. Lundquist, Maj. W. Stone, Capt. Henry C. Adams, Capt. J. Borsellino, Capt. R. F. Wales, Capt. R. Task Forces 38 and 58—Thirteen aircraft carriers which bore the brunt of the Pacific air-sea offensive as essential components of famed Task Forces 38 and 58 have been named to receive individual unit citations and commendations. Eight of the 13 will receive the Presidential Unit Citation. They are the Essex, Hornet, Lexington, Bunker Hill, Yorktown, San Jacinto, Cabot, and Belleau Wood.

The Enterprise, previously awarded the Presidential Unit Citation to become the first capital ship so honored, heads a list of other carriers which receive Navy Unit Commendations. In addition to the Big-E, they are the Hancock, Wasp, Cowpens, and Langley.

Statistics covering the operations of these 13 flattops show that of 29 large medium carriers that saw action in the Pacific, they staged 56 per cent of all carrier-based action sorties of the war. The results of their precision bombing on shipping is shown by the fact that the Navy's carrier planes sank 21 per cent of all Japanese shipping of 1,000 tons or greater. Carrier based planes recorded a total of 147,094 action sorties during the war. Navy carrier pilots destroyed in aerial combat 4,487 enemy fighter planes and 1,997 bombers for a total of 6,484. Only 452 carrier-based planes were lost in aerial combat, for a ratio of better than 7-to-1 over the enemy in air action. In addition, 1,428 carrier planes were lost to enemy anti aircraft guns.

Signal Corps—Col. Frank C. Meade has been designated Acting Chief, Personnel and Training Service, Office of the Chief Signal Officer, and Lt. Col. William M. Van Harlingen, Jr., has been named Chief, Military Personnel Branch.

Colonel Meade succeeds Col. David E. Washburn who has been assigned to the European Theater while Colonel Van Harlingen succeeds Lt. Col. Arthur A. McCrary, who has been designated Chief of the Signal Branch, Central Officers Assignment Group.

For their important contributions to the communications program of the Signal Corps the War Department Certificate of Appreciation has been awarded to the following executives of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company: Frank P. Lawrence, Vice President, and George L. Best and William G. Thompson, Assistant Vice Presidents. The awards were presented by Brig. Gen. Frank E. Stoner, Assistant Chief Signal Officer, at a recent ceremony at the Pentagon.

Army Dental Corps—Maj. Gen. Norman T. Kirk, Surgeon General of the Army, has announced that prospects are good for earlier than contemplated discharge of Dental Corps officers with over two years of service.

Applications for commissions in the Dental Corps are being received at a daily average rate of between 25 and 30. During the week ending 22 June the number of dentists being processed for commissions as first lieutenants totaled 234.

Secretary of War Patterson late last week said that there apparently has been some confusion as to the induction of dentists following his general order that no requisitions be made on the Selective Service system for the months of July and August. To clarify the matter, Secretary Patterson said that the order did not cancel the special call for the induction of 1,500 graduate dentists which was actually placed with Selective Service in May.

Naval Reserve Program—While aviation components of the Naval Reserve were activated on a pay basis during the week, other units of the Organized Reserve are heading toward full-scale activity sometime in the near future. Organized Reserve units have held their first meetings in several cities, and, except for lack of training facilities in many places, are preparing for weekly study and drill groups. The surface, submarine, electronics, and merchant marine Reserve components are handicapped, for the most part, by the shortage of building materials.

One phase of the Reserve, originally conceived for communications officers only, has been expanded to include all electronics technicians who will be grouped separately in Organized Reserve plans.

Marine Corps Band—In its first concert tour since 1941, the Marine Corps Band will tour 14 states this fall, appearing under sponsorship of civic or community organizations with proceeds being donated to charity. The tour will open 23 Sept. at Lancaster, Pa., and the Band will then play at many of the principal cities of Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Wisconsin, New York, Massachusetts, Connecticut, and New Jersey. The final concert will be given in Atlantic City on 23 Nov.

Its present leader, Capt. William F. Santelmann, is the eighteenth leader to direct the band, and the second member of his family to be so honored. His father, the sixteenth leader, directed the organization for more than 29 years. The present leader, who assumed the directorship in 1940, has been a member since 1923 when he joined the Band as a violin soloist and euphonium player. The Marine Corps Band was created in 1798 and has been in continuous existence ever since, making it the oldest band in the United States.

Quartermaster Corps—The 194th Quartermaster Truck Battalion, a unit attached to the Second Major Port, has been awarded the meritorious service unit plaque by Maj. Gen. Walter L. Weible, commanding general of Yokohama Base. The battalion, commanded by Lt. Col. Lawrence K. Smith, was cited for its efficient work at Yokohama since 11 Oct. 1945.

Ordnance Department—Training ordnance specialists to replace experienced men being discharged is the program of the new Eighth Army Ordnance Specialist school, armament branch, at Tokyo Ordnance Depot, Capt. Francis L. Kueht, executive officer announced.

Students, quota-drawn by Eighth Army headquarters, from all ordnance units in Japan, take eight-week courses in instrument repair, small arms, and light artillery and gain practical experience in the shop section.

Medical Department—General health of the troops in Japan is excellent and exceeds expectations, Col. P. L. Cook, Eighth Army surgeon reported recently. The "off duty" figure due to illness or injury has been averaging about 25 men per thousand, the surgeon said, and this compares favorably with rates in other overseas theaters and in the states. Disease, which includes all types of illness, amounts to 22 per thousand and injuries to slightly over three per thousand. Highest on the disease list are common respiratory illnesses. No serious or extensive outbreaks of contagious diseases have been reported, Colonel Cook said. There have been a few cases of malaria recurring among those who contracted the disease in other areas. There have been no cases of cholera or Japanese B Encephalitis among the troops. Venereal disease rates have declined radically since February.

Col. George E. Armstrong, chief surgeon for troops in China, and his executive officer, Lt. Col. Wilbur W. Hiehle, left Tokyo recently for Washington, D. C., where they will be assigned to the Office of the Surgeon General. Colonel Armstrong will be replaced by Col. Howard S. McConkie; Colonel Hiehle by Lt. Col. Frank Govern.

I Corps headquarters has announced the appointment of Lt. Col. Alfred H. Bungardt as I Corps surgeon replacing Col. Charles Mudgett. Colonel Bungardt served with the Sixth Army surgeon's office on Hollandia, Leyte, Luzon, and Japan, and has been with the I Corps office since the Sixth Army was inactivated.

NORFOLK, VA.

4 July 1946

Miss Mary Hynson Parkinson and Lt. Comdr. Harold George Bradshaw, whose marriage was an outstanding event of last week-end, were guests of honor on Thursday evening at a beautifully appointed dinner at the Princess Anne Country Club by Miss Alice Jeannette Cline.

Guests in addition to the guests of honor, were Dr. and Mrs. Carl Preson Cline, Lt. Howard A. Patrick, Lt. Anthony Peyou, Dr. Jack Lynch, Mrs. Marjorie Odessey, Miss Mary Payne Jett, Miss Sarah Thornton and Morris Jett.

On Friday evening, Lieutenant Bradshaw and Miss Parkinson were again entertained at a charming dinner party, also in the Princess Anne Country Club, with Joseph Eggleston Garland of Farmville as host.

Another interesting wedding of 29 June was that of Miss Carol May Parker and Lt. (jg) Donald Vercell Shafer, USNR, who were honored at a number of pre-nuptial parties. Among them a very delightful occasion was the buffet supper given by Mrs. William G.

Parker, Mrs. J. L. Parker and Mrs. H. Gray Parker Friday evening, at their home on Ocean Avenue, Virginia Beach. This party followed the rehearsal for the wedding and the guests included members of the wedding party and out of town visitors here for the wedding.

Lt. Comdr. Robert Bruce Chaney and Mrs. Chaney, were hosts on Saturday at a reception given at their home on Blair Avenue in honor of their son, Robert Bruce Chaney, Jr., and his bride, the former Miss Elizabeth Williams of Helene, Georgia, who are here for a brief visit to Mr. Chaney's parents before returning to Macon, Georgia, where they will make their home.

Comdr. Lee W. Mathew, who has been on duty in the Pacific area for the last eight months arrived last week by plane from California, to spend several weeks with Mrs. Mathew and their children at their home on Graydon Avenue. Commander Mathew will leave this month for Newport, R. I.

FT. BENJ. HARRISON, IND.

29 June 1946

Lt. Col. Alexander J. Rouch, a veteran of the Pacific campaign, has returned to Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., and assumed the duties of post adjutant, the same detail he held at Fort Harrison from 1940 to 1943. The announcement was made by the post commander, Col. Edward L. Strohehn.

Colonel Strohehn also announced this week that Capt. Karl Burkhardt, who has been on duty with a German prisoner of war camp at Ashford General Hospital, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., has reported at Fort Harrison and will relieve Capt. L. Y. McCarty as provost marshal. The latter is expecting overseas orders.

A farewell dance is being given Saturday night at the Officers Club for officers of the Finance Training Center and their wives. Many officers with the center are being relieved from active duty and the center moves next month to St. Louis, Mo., for permanent station. Col. Leighton R. Smith is the commanding officer.

Maj. M. S. Foster has been named education and training and rehabilitation officer of USDB. He served 34 months in the Pacific area.

Lt. Col. and Mrs. Edmund H. VanDervort and children spent last Sunday with friends in Columbus, O.

FORT RICHARDSON, ALASKA

27 June 1946

At its regular meeting last Tuesday the Officers' Wives Club held a bridge party. Prizes were won by Mrs. Willie J. Barrios and Mrs. Wade C. Heard. Mrs. George J. Kitto and Mrs. William L. Abbott were hostesses.

Mrs. B. E. Rice of Sacramento, Calif., arrived on the post Friday, 21 June, to spend two weeks with her son-in-law and daughter, Capt. and Mrs. Gallford Barry, 5th Troop Carrier Squadron.

Mrs. Angela Abreu of Oakland, Calif., arrived this week to spend the summer with her son, Capt. Lawrence A. Abreu of the Alaskan Department Signal Section.

Lt. Col. and Mrs. W. W. Young entertained with a dinner party Saturday evening, 22 June. Guests present were Col. and Mrs. James D. Lang, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Raymond P. Sharood, Maj. and Mrs. Ray Hogan, Mrs. W. B. Wright, and Mrs. Leonard Rohrbough.

Mrs. Claude Burcky, wife of Maj. Burcky, made history in the Aleutian Islands last week when she joined her husband on Shemya, thus becoming the first dependent to arrive on that island and the first white woman in the island's history to set up house-keeping. Mrs. Burcky, who was formerly 1st Lt. Elinor Burns of the Army Nurse Corps, is from St. Louis, Mo. She met her husband less than two years ago while she was on duty in the station hospital at Adak and Maj. Burcky was a patient there. They were married in Anchorage on Christmas Day, 1945. It is reported from Shemya that other dependents of military personnel stationed there may join Mrs. Burcky at an early date.

CAMP LEJEUNE, N. C.

28 June 1946

A reception was given in honor of Maj. Gen. and Mrs. John Marston, 27 June at the Camp Lejeune Officers' Club upon the retirement of General Marston from active service in the Marine Corps.

As a token of admiration, the officers of the camp presented General Marston with a watch. At a luncheon, the wives, in a similar gesture, gave Mrs. Marston a wrist watch.

Coming as a surprise to General Marston was the dedication 26 June of Marston Pavilion at Wallace Creek, Col. W. A. Wachtler, Chief of Staff, made the dedication speech at an enlisted men's dance attended by people from the neighboring towns as well as the base, at the pavilion. The esteem held for General Marston was evidenced in the applause given following the speech of acknowledgment of the dedication.

One of the main interests of General Marston has been the improvement of recreational facilities for the camp personnel. The Marston Pavilion is only one of the many projects in which he has shown great interest. Listed among the others may be three beach pavilions, a thirty-seven hole golf course with a club house, enlarged and expanded boating and fishing facilities, and an indoor stadium which is soon to be erected.

The Recreation Fund, the source for the erection of the recreational facilities also was the source of income for the landscaping program which dispersed such flowering plants as roses and azaleas throughout the camp area to make the camp one of the most beautiful in the nation.

Prior to the dedication ceremonies 27 June, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. D. R. Nimmer entertained at a dinner party in honor of General and Mrs. Marston.

Several dinner parties were held for General and Mrs. Marston. Col. and Mrs. L. B. Fuller entertained 29 June, Col. and Mrs. W. A. Wachtler, 30 June, and Col. and Mrs. J. H. Fellows 1 July.

General Marston's farewell to the camp came at a parade on 30 June.

Upon departure from the base, General and Mrs. Marston will spend about a month at the Chamberlain Hotel in Norfolk, Va.

Brig. Gen. William H. Hobson was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal on Saturday 29 June, the day before his retirement from active duty, after more than 38 years' service.

Lt. Gen. Oscar W. Griswold, USA, Commanding General of the Seventh Army with headquarters in Atlanta, Ga., presented the medal to General Hobson at a review of Infantry School Troops. The citation said in part that General Hobson "distinguished himself in the performance of exceptionally meritorious service as Commanding General of Fort Benning, Georgia, from October 1943 to October 1945. . . . He demonstrated such outstanding guidance that the complexities seemed simple. . . . General Hobson met and solved every problem so successfully that Fort Benning's contribution to the prosecution of the war was most notable."

General Hobson has established his home at 1700 Stark Avenue, Columbus, Ga., where he and Mrs. Hobson and their daughter, Mary, have been residing since he moved from Fort Benning on 1 Feb. 1946.

Weddings and Engagements

Mrs. Richard E. Farrington and Miss Charlotte Tatnell, friends of the bride, were organist and vocal soloist.

A reception was held at the Hotel Dupont.

Miss Leach was graduated from the University of Delaware where she was May Queen her senior year.

Mr. Goodfellow was graduated from Poly Prep Country Day School of Brooklyn and had completed his sophomore year at Dartmouth College when he volunteered for the Army Air Force. He was a first lieutenant bombardier with the Fifth Air Force and saw two years active service in New Guinea. He was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal with clusters, the Presidential Unit Citation and five battle stars. He will return to Dartmouth for his senior year in the fall, after a honeymoon which will take the young couple to the west coast. Mr. Goodfellow is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Colonel Goodfellow was formerly president and publisher of the Brooklyn Daily Eagle. During the war he served as a Deputy Director of the Office of Strategic Services and has recently returned from Korea where he was assigned as political advisor to Lt. Gen. John R. Hodge.

Lt. Col. Franklin K. Gurley, USA, and Mrs. Gurley announce the marriage of their daughter, Alice Kress to Capt. Martin H. Long, Jr., the ceremony being performed in St. Stephens Reformed Episcopal Church in Harrisonburg, Va., 8 June.

Colonel Gurley, on leave from duty in Hawaii, gave his daughter's hand in marriage and she was attended by Miss Nancy Lee Andes as maid of honor. Captain Long had as best man his father, Mr. Martin Long, sr., of Jacksonville, Fla. Ushers were William F. Gurley, S2c, USNR, the brother of the bride recently returned from Okinawa, and Mr. Thomas O. Brock, who served in the Army overseas.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for the family and close friends.

The bride attended Madison College in Harrisonburg and is a member of Pi Kappa Sigma sorority.

Captain Long, M.C., AUS, has just returned from service with the 5th Air Force in Japan. He is now on terminal leave, upon completion of which he will engage in private practice. He is a graduate of the University of Virginia and of the University of Pennsylvania Medical School, and is a member of Delta Tau Delta fraternity, and the Phi Chi Medical fraternity.

Lt. Thomas M. Constant, son of Col. and Mrs. S. V. Constant of Governor's Island, took as his bride, Miss Clarine Aust Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Collins of Columbus, Ohio, Tuesday 18 June, at a ceremony performed by the Rev. Robert E. Leake in St. Albans Church at Bexley, Ohio.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in a gown of white satin trimmed with ruching ornamenting the neckline and torso bodice. The full skirt extended into a court train and her veil of heirloom silk Chantilly lace belonged to her maternal grandmother. She carried a prayer book with marker of a white lace handkerchief brought from China by the bridegroom's mother.

Gowned in coral taffeta, Mrs. Robert N. Smith acted as matron of honor for her sister.

Bridesmaids were the Misses Barbara Brown, Marjorie Essex and Betty Cramer, all in frocks of pale green taffeta.

Colonel Constant was best man for his son and ushers included Lt. Grover W. Asmus, Lt. Stephen C. Edwards, Lt. A. William Jank, and Lt. Ray I. Burnell.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Aust, Jr., in Parkview ave., for a hundred and fifty guests.

The bride graduated from Bexley High School, and Ohio State University, and was a member of Pi Beta Phi. The bridegroom is an alumnus of Poly-Prep Country Day School of New York, and attended Norwich University, Northfield, Vt., where he became a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. He graduated from West Point.

After a wedding trip in the Great Lakes region of New England and Canada, they will go to Fort Sill where Lieutenant Constant is stationed.

Miss Liane Norton, daughter of Maj. and Mrs. Edwin A. Norton of Chestnut st., Manchester, N. H., was married Saturday, 15 June, to Mr. Donald Russell Harvey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene

Moore of Candia, at a home ceremony, with the Rev. L. Bradford Young officiating.

The bride, clad in white point d'esprit with a ruffled medium length train, and double veil of net attached to a Juliet cap fastened by tiny clusters of stephanotis, carried a bouquet of orchids and stephanotis, as her father escorted her to the improvised altar in front of the fireplace which was ablaze with white blossoms.

Her roommate at Colby Junior College, Miss Betty Gaido, acted as bridesmaid. A small cousin, Noel Magoon, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Magoon was flower girl.

Mr. Eugene Moore was best man for his son. The ceremony was witnessed by only members of the family and close friends but some two hundred guests were asked to the reception that followed. A wedding jaunt followed, the bride leaving in a suit of plaid sent her by her father while he was serving in Germany with the Allied Military Government.

The bridegroom served 14 months in the European theatre with the Army Transport Service.

Miss Cynthia Martin Hartung, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edward Hartung of New York City, and 2nd Lt. Everett Lipscomb Rea, son of Col. Everett F. Rea, and Mrs. Rea, were married in Christ Methodist Church, New York, on 8 June. The ceremony was performed by the Reverend Dr. J. P. Martin of Knoxville, Tenn., grandfather of the bride. Miss Cynthia Smathers Haynes was the maid of honor and Colonel Rea was best man for his son.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride wore a gown of white organza trimmed in lace with a veil of tulle and lace. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and sweet peas.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Rea left for a wedding trip of a month in Canada after which they will visit Lieutenant Rea's parents in Langley Field, Va. They will be stationed at Ft. Sill, Oklahoma.

Announcement has been made by Mr. and Mrs. William Corrigan of Hartford, Conn., of the engagement of their daughter, Capt. Rosemary M. Corrigan, Army Nurse, to Maj. William C. Luebker, USA-Ret. The wedding will take place in Hartford, in October.

The bride-to-be is a graduate of St. Francis Hospital Nursing School, Hartford and served in the Pacific area during the war. She is now stationed at McCann General Hospital at Pasadena, Calif.

Major Luebker, son of Bernard L. Luebker of St. Louis, Mo., is a graduate of Washington University. He was recently retired from the Army because of a physical disability contracted during service in the Pacific area. He and his bride will make their home in St. Louis, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Rayburn, of Los Angeles, Calif., formerly of Briarcliff Manor and Scarsdale, N. Y., announce the engagement of their daughter, Joyce, to Nathan Arthur Smith, son of Mrs. Nathan A. Smith of Whipoorwill, Chappaqua, N. Y., and the late Capt. Nathan A. Smith, USA-Ret., and grandson of Mrs. J. Allen Smith of Whipoorwill, Chappaqua, N. Y.

Miss Rayburn attended Briarcliff Manor (N. Y.) High School, graduated from Cushing Academy, Ashburnham, Mass., and attended Cornell University.

Mr. Smith is a graduate of the Metuchen, New Jersey, High School, and since his recent discharge from the Army, has returned to Cornell University to complete his course in Engineering.

The wedding date is set for early in September.

Col. and Mrs. Crawford F. NG Assn. General Conference

Maj. Gen. Ellard A. Walsh, President of the National Guard Association of the United States, announced this week that the National Guard Association of the United States would hold its first post-war general conference at the Statler Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. 18-19-20-21 Sept. The National Guard of the State of New York will be hosts to the National Guard Association with Maj. Gen. Edwin C. Ziegler acting as the general chairman. This will be the first general conference held by the National Guard since October of 1940.

It is anticipated that the House of Delegates, consisting of 676 officer-delegates, will be present. Present plans contemplate two sessions daily. The Executive Council of the Association will meet on Tuesday evening, 17 Sept., and the newly elected Executive Council will meet on Saturday afternoon, 21 Sept.

Special AUS Appointments

The War Department announced 2 July that it will appoint 60 second lieutenants in the Army of the United States by 31 July for duty as interrogators and investigators in War Crimes activities now being conducted in the European and Mediterranean Theaters of Operation.

Applicants must have been honorably discharged from the army as enlisted men of the grade of sergeant or above and must meet at least one of the following requirements:

1. Twelve or more months active military duty as a special agent in the Counter-Intelligence Corps.
2. Previous civilian or military experience as an investigator or interrogator.
3. A law degree.

Weddings and Engagements

versity School of Medicine, New Orleans, La., he is a member of the Sigma Chi.

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Hazeltine, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Caryl Rawson Hazeltine of the Monterey Peninsula, Calif., to Mr. Chester M. Carr, son of Mr. Charles M. Carr and the late Mrs. Carr, of Hanford, Calif., took place at St. Mary's By the Sea, on the Monterey Peninsula, 27 April. The Rev. D. Howard Dow performed the ceremony. Mrs. Frank C. Winter, the former Irma Hazeltine, was matron of honor. Miss Rita Hazeltine, the bride's younger sister, was maid of honor. Lt. Laurence O. Haupt, USNR, was best man. Dr. Frank C. Winter, and Ensigns Justin W. Cowger and John R. Burke, USNR, were the ushers. A reception was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents at the Monterey Peninsula Country Club, Del Monte, Calif. Mrs. Carr was graduated from Stanford University where she was a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Pi Sigma Alpha, national honorary fraternities, last June. Previously she attended the College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Va., where she was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta. Mr. Carr, after war service with the Navy, is attending Stanford where he is a member of Alpha Tau Omega.

Of interest is the marriage of Miss Margalee Corcoran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Adams Corcoran, and Lt. Comdr. Robert Charles Gillette, USN, son of Capt. Norman Campbell Gillette, USN, and Mrs. Gillette, which was solemnized Saturday evening, 22 June, at 8:30 o'clock in St. Paul's Catholic church.

Comdr. John M. Bowers, USN, of New London, Conn., served as best man for the bridegroom, and acting as ushers were Comdr. Sherman H. Stearns, USN, Lt. Comdr. Lawrence R. Geis, USN, Lt. Comdr. Roland W. Schuman, USN, Lt. Comdr. Elbert C. Lindon, USN, Bruce H. Sample, and John Gilliland.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, had her sister, Miss Dorothy Elise Corcoran, as her maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Patricia Stewart, Miss Mary Gillette, sister of the bridegroom, of Hawthorne, Nev., Miss Margaret Ann Durkee of Pine River, Minn., Mrs. William Wells Bennett, Mrs. William Edward Scheu, and Mrs. Jonathan Warner of Tuscaloosa, Ala.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride at 4545 Ortega boulevard, with dancing on the river-front terrace and punch in the garden.

During the evening, the couple left for a wedding trip to the Ponte Vedra Inn and the Homestead, in Hot Springs, Va., and on their return, they will reside at 5 East Monroe street in Alexandria, Va.

The bride attended the Convent of the Sacred Heart and Eden Hall in Philadelphia, Pa., and graduated from Trinity College in Washington, D. C. For the past year, she has attended the Parsons School of Design in New York City. Mrs. Gillette was a member of the debutante coterie of 1938-1939, and holds membership in the Cotillion club, the Spinners club, and the Junior League of Jacksonville.

Lieut. Comdr. Gillette attended American University in Washington and graduated from the U. S. Naval Academy in 1939. He has recently returned from a tour of duty in the Pacific as the commanding officer of a submarine, and he is now stationed at the Bureau of Personnel in Washington.

Financial Digest

President Truman 29 June vetoed the OPA extension bill, the House voting to sustain the President's veto. A stop-gap extension was approved by the House 1 July by a nearly five-to-one majority. Sidetracking the House-approved extension, Senate leaders the next day in consultation with Price Administrator Porter began working out a one year extension plan.

Industrial output declined somewhat further in May but advanced considerably in the early part of June, according to the summary of general business and financial conditions issued by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The Board's seasonally adjusted index of industrial production was 160 per cent of the 1935-39 average in May as compared with 165 in April and 168 in March. Since the resumption of bituminous coal mining and the settlement of various other wage disputes in the latter part of May, industrial production has expanded considerably and indications are that the Board's index in June will surpass the March level.

Output of iron and steel was especially affected by the coal shutdown and in May steel ingot production averaged only 52 per cent of capacity as compared with 78 per cent the previous month. Steel production, however, rose rapidly in June, reaching a scheduled rate of 87 per cent of capacity during the week ended 28 June. Activity in other durable goods industries was generally maintained in May at about the April level.

Output of nondurable goods continued to show a slight decline in May, after allowance for seasonal changes, largely due to further reductions in output of flour and cereal products and of meats. Despite these declines production in recent months of most nondurable goods, including many manufactured foods, cigarettes, textiles, shoes, gasoline, chemicals, and rubber and paper products, has been considerably larger than the volume produced for civilian use a year ago and also than the 1939-40 level of output.

Deposits subject to reserve requirements increased further in May and the first three weeks of June, reflecting primarily a shift of about $3.5 billion from Treasury war loan accounts to accounts held by businesses and individuals, and average required reserves increased about $500 million. Reserve balances increased considerably less than required reserves and excess reserves declined.

Merchant Marine

Appointment of a committee to study creation of a new international governmental body for consultation on shipping highlighted deliberations of the United Maritime Consultative Council at its meeting last month in Amsterdam.

Arrangements are being made for this committee to begin its work in the next few weeks, with representatives from Belgium, Canada, France, the Netherlands, Norway, Poland, United Kingdom, and the United States.

They will draw up a draft report of a possible constitution, and study the scope and procedure of an inter-governmental organization which will deal with all international shipping matters.

The UMCC, at its first meeting since its inception earlier this year, discussed the shipping policies of member nations, and concluded that arrangements made in March for providing shipping for UNRRA and liberated nations were working satisfactorily.

The following nations were represented: Australia, Belgium, Canada, Chile, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, France, Greece, India, Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Poland, South Africa, Sweden, United Kingdom, and the United States.

U. S. Reserve Fleet

The temporary reserve fleet of the American Merchant Marine has grown to a total of 1,263 vessels, 363 ships having gone into anchorages during the month ending 15 June. In the same period 23 vessels were withdrawn for sale, returned to former owners, or placed in active service.

Of the 363 ships placed in reserve during the month because of damage, overage or uselessness in current ocean operations, only eight were built before the war.

Reserve berthing areas, with the numbers of accessions, withdrawals, and total ships anchored there, are as follows:

	Accessions	Withdrawals	Total
James River, Va.	170	16	576
Mobile River, Ala.	29	1	148
Suisun Bay, Calif.	29	6	256
Tarryton, N. Y.	98		185
Puget Sound, Wash.	26		45
Beaumont, Tex.	11		30
Columbia River, Ore.	3		23

The Maritime Commission will soon begin studies of scrap metal prices and market demands to plan orderly disposal of over-age and badly-damaged merchant vessels.

The P-2 Navy transports being taken over by the Army Transport Service are being converted to carry a crew of 329 civilians, 37 permanent military personnel, 302 passengers, and 2,115 troops, totaling 2,783, which is about half their rated wartime capacity. The C-4 transports will carry a civilian crew of 218, 32 military personnel, 149 passengers, and 2,099 troops.

Distribution of the Merchant Marine Honorable Service Button, showing a spread eagle over a Merchant Marine Service Emblem in bronze, which may be worn by every American merchant marine veteran who has a Certificate of Substantially Continuous Service, began 28 June.

Application letters for the button must give the date and number of the seamen's Certificate of Substantially Continuous Service and must be addressed to the Merchant Marine Decorations and Medals Board, WSA, Washington 25, D. C.

Advertisers in the Army and Navy Journal support the Armed Forces and are familiar with their requirements.

Navy Appropriations Bill

The Senate and House have passed and sent to the President for final approval the Navy Appropriations Bill for 1947 containing total appropriations of $4,119,659,300.

This is a compromise figure evolved by a conference committee of both houses. While exceeding the $4,100,000,100 originally voted by the Senate, it represents reductions from the $4,224,000,000 recommended by the Budget Bureau, the $4,639,659,000 voted by the House, and the $6,325,000,000 asked by the Navy Department.

The Appropriations Bill upholds the Navy's decision to shift its manufacture of torpedoes from Newport, R. I., to Forest Park, Ill., being free of a House-approved amendment barring such a move.

Sees Guided Missile Era

Tests of the Nazi V-2 rocket at White Sands Proving Ground, N. Mex., this summer are the prelude to an era of long-range guided missiles capable of spanning oceans, and possibly the world, according to Maj. Gen. Everett S. Hughes, Chief of the Army Ordnance Department.

Scientists at the Ordnance Ballistic Research Laboratories at Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md., are preparing for the advent of these supersonic rockets, General Hughes reveals. Plans are underway for a hyper-velocity wind tunnel and companion hyper-velocity free flight range which will have eight or ten times the velocity of sound. Aberdeen now boasts the most advanced supersonic wind tunnel in the world. Eventually this facility will be extended to about five times the velocity of sound—the approximate speed of the Nazi V-2 rockets.

Army Retirement Bill

such pay at the rate prescribed by law, computed upon the same basis as that prescribed by this section for the computation of the retirement pay of members of the Regular Army.

(e) This section shall be effective as to persons heretofore retired or granted retirement pay upon the date of enactment of this title, and as to persons hereafter retired or granted retirement pay upon the effective date of retirement or of entitlement to receive retirement pay.

(f) No person recalled to active duty after retirement, or after having been granted retirement pay, shall be entitled, by reason of the enactment of this section, to be recalled in any rank or grade higher than that to which he or she would otherwise have been entitled.

Text of Letter

Following is the text of Secretary Patterson's letter:

"It is apparent in the foreseeable future that the larger portion of the armed forces will consist of Reserve components. Adequate national security requires that they be maintained at maximum efficiency. The authorized representatives of the Reserve components have studied this matter carefully and at length and feel that a plan as herein proposed is essential not only to the effectiveness of the Reserves but for the security of the Nation as well. The War Department initially felt this proposal was unnecessary but based on further study, a thorough consideration, and weighing all factors, and in view of the confidence placed in the judgment of the Reserve representatives, the War Department submits and approves the retirement provisions contained herein for personnel of the Reserve components.

"The problem may be summarized briefly as follows: The plan would provide a system of retirement pay on a deferred payment basis with specific eligibility requirements which would include an obligation to perform an appreciable amount of active duty in time of peace. An outline of that which the War Department considers appropriate requirements under a plan of this kind follows:

ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS FOR RETIREMENT PAY.

"Minimum of 20 years in the Reserve components (active and inactive duty).

"Retirement pay deferred to age 60.

"Require future active service and a total of past and future active service as indicated in the following schedule:

Creditable time spent in a Reserve component on date of official termination of present war
Less than 5 years	3 years
Over 5 and less than 10 years	2 years
Over 10 and less than 15 years	1 1/2 years
Over 15 and less than 20 years	1 year
Over 20 years	6 months
Over 25 years	0

"RATE OF RETIREMENT PAY.

"2 1/2 per cent times years of active duty, plus .5 per cent or 1 per cent, as the case may be, times years in Reserve status.

"CONTROL FACTOR.

"Persons in the Reserve components shall not be eligible for retirement pay unless throughout their entire service in the Army of the United States they meet such standards and qualifications as may be prescribed by the Secretary of War.

"This plan has the advantage of offering an individual a reasonable amount of security in old age as compensation for time devoted to military affairs at the expense of his civilian occupation or profession. It further guarantees to him an annuity at age of 60 years with the premiums paid and which all too frequently cannot be financed by the individual where he is called upon to serve for a period of years such as happened in World War I and II and, when as has frequently happened, his occupation and, or, profession has ceased to exist on his return. If a greatly expanded National Guard and Officers Reserve Corps is to be maintained in the future as provided in the National Defense Act and as contemplated by the War Department Troop Basis, then National Guard and Officer Reserve Corps personnel must be afforded some degree of security in their old age. Otherwise they cannot be expected to constitute the bulwark of our security. The plan provides not only an incentive for a person to retain his Reserve status but also includes an obligation to serve the Government on an active duty status for a definite period of time in order to establish eligibility for retirement pay. The active duty feature would provide invaluable training for Reserve personnel and thereby automatically increase efficiency. It appears that the Army must employ Reserves on active duty to a much greater extent in the future than in the past and this plan would greatly facilitate the procurement of volunteers.

"The War Department and representatives of the Reserve Components fully appreciate that unless proper control measures are provided, this plan will have the disadvantage of forcing the retention of incompetent personnel on an inactive status solely for the purpose of establishing eligibility for retirement pay. It is believed that this potential disadvantage can be obviated by a specific provision in the law to the effect that no individual shall establish eligibility for retirement pay unless he has satisfactorily met, throughout his entire service, all standards and qualifications prescribed by the Secretary of War particularly with respect to fitness, proficiency, and age in grade. Appropriate authority is accordingly vested in the Secretary of War under the proposed draft of a bill.

"While the establishment of a deferred non-disability retirement system for personnel of the Reserve components, based upon time spent in both an active and inactive duty status will naturally affect all the armed forces and has not been coordinated with the Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard, which elements may or may not have a definite interest in the matter, nevertheless in the interest of National Defense it is the judgment of the War Department that the plan should prevail. While it may be difficult to compile an estimate of the cost immediately, it is believed however that the Reserve components are in a position to submit estimates of cost, which, together with War Department cost data, will provide a reasonably accurate picture of the ultimate cost. In the event that your Committee favorably considers a retirement plan along the lines indicated herein, the War Department considers that the specifications included in section 203 of the attached draft of the bill are appropriate for Reserve personnel of the Army.

"Attached herewith is a redraft of S. 974. Changes in the language of the bill have been made with a view to providing for the Regular Army a retirement law substantially identical with that recently passed by the Congress affecting the Navy."

New Provision

Following is the text of the new Section 203 relating to Reserves and National Guard:

SEC 203 (a) Each person who has heretofore served or hereafter serves as a commissioned officer, warrant officer, flight officer or enlisted man in a reserve component of the Army of the United States and who shall have completed an aggregate of twenty (20) or more years of satisfactory service in the armed forces of the United States, or reserve components thereof, including the Federally-recognized National Guard prior to 1933, with a stipulated number of years of active Federal service as prescribed hereinafter and who requests retirement shall, upon attainment of age 60, be granted retirement pay equal to the sum of:

2 1/2 per centum of the active duty annual base and longevity pay which he would receive if serving at the time of his application in the highest grade satisfactorily held by him during his period of service, multiplied by a number equal to the years of his active Federal service at the time of filing his application for retirement pay, plus 1/2 of 1 per centum of such active duty annual base and longevity pay, multiplied by a number equal to the years of his inactive Federal service credited at the time of filing his application for retirement pay: Provided, That no person shall receive as retirement pay hereunder more than 75 per centum of such active duty annual base and longevity pay: Provided further, That those persons who are enrolled in one of the reserve components of the Army of the United States subsequent to the official termination of World War II and who have had no service in the armed forces of the United States prior thereto, shall not be eligible for retirement pay hereunder unless they shall have completed not less than three (3) years of active Federal service subsequent to the official termination of World War II: Provided further, That those persons in the reserve components of the United States who have had less than five (5) years of satisfactory service in the Army of the United States or any reserve component thereof, prior to the official termination of World War II shall not be eligible for retirement pay hereunder unless they shall have completed not less than four (4) years of active Federal service, eighteen (18) months of which shall be served subsequent to the official termination of World War II: Provided further, That those persons in the reserve components of the Army of the United States who have completed ten (10) years but less than fifteen (15) years of satisfactory service in the Army of the United States or any reserve component thereof, prior to the official termination of World War II shall not be eligible for retirement pay hereunder unless they shall have completed not less than four (4) years of active Federal service, one (1) year of which must be served subsequent to the official termination of World War II:

Provided further, That those persons in the reserve components of the Army of the United States who have completed fifteen (15) years but less than twenty-five (25) years of satisfactory service in the Army of the United States or any reserve component thereof prior to the official termination of World War II shall not be eligible for retirement pay hereunder unless they shall have completed not less than four (4) years of active Federal service, six (6) months of which must be served subsequent to the official termination of World War II: Provided further, That those persons in reserve components of the Army of the United States who have completed twenty-five (25) years of satisfactory service in the Army of the United States or any reserve component thereof prior to the official termination of World War II shall not be eligible for retirement pay hereunder unless they shall have completed not less than four (4) years of active Federal service; Provided further, That service with the Civilian Conservation Corps shall not count as active Federal service for the purposes of determining eligibility for retirement, and periods of service in the Inactive National Guard, in a non-Federally recognized status in the National Guard, or in the Inactive Reserve Section of the Officers Reserve Corps shall not be counted as active or inactive Federal service for the purposes of this Act: Provided further, That persons in the reserve components of the Army of the United States shall not be eligible for retirement pay unless throughout their entire service in the Army of the United States or any component thereof they meet such standards and qualifications as may be prescribed by the Secretary of War. Any person in a reserve component of the Army of the United States who hereafter fails to meet such standards and qualifications may be discharged at any time by the Secretary of War, notwithstanding the provisions of any other law: And provided further, That in computing the number of years of such service for the purpose of determining pay, and for no other purpose, any fractional part of a year amounting to six months or more shall be counted as a complete year.

(b) That in computing the active Federal service there shall be included those periods of active Federal duty and periods of training authorized by the Secretary of War for annual field training, attendance at service schools and to include periods of training under section 37a, 94, 97, and 99, National Defense Act.

(c) Eligibility of any person to receive retirement pay under this section, and the amount thereof, shall be determined by the Secretary of War or by his designee within the War Department, in the manner and in accordance with the standards provided by law or regulations for Regular Army personnel. All other duties, powers, and functions incident to the administration and payment of such retirement pay are vested in the Veterans' Administration.

U. S. COAST GUARD

WITH abandonment of Navy control over air-sea rescue, ocean weather, and air-sea navigational aids on 1 July, the Coast Guard has been left in charge of these activities in all areas except west of Pearl Harbor.

This is in accordance with Executive Order 9666 of 28 December 1945, which ordered these functions continued under Navy control until 1 July. West of Pearl Harbor, present arrangements will continue for the time being, while Navy commanders supplement rescue facilities where needed.

Navy directional control of the Coast Guard in its performance of air-sea rescue, ocean weather and air-sea navigational aids terminated in the Atlantic, continental United States, Alaska, and east of Pearl Harbor.

Headquarters announced that the following vessels have been assigned to duty under the Commander North Atlantic Ocean Patrol for employment in maintaining the four Atlantic Ocean weather stations:

Duane, Ingham, Spencer, Bibb, Androscoquin, Sebago, Pontchartrain, Winnebago, Owaseo, Dexter, McCullough, and Gresham, and the Campbell and Mendota for temporary duty.

The following were assigned under the Commander Western Area, for maintaining the Pacific weather stations:

Chataqua, Escanaba, Klamath, Winona, Iroquois, and Minnetonka.

As of 17 June, the Coast Guard was manning eight Navy ships, most of which were in the process of de-commissioning. This is a net reduction of 250 since V-J Day, when the Coast Guard was manning 258 vessels for the Navy.

During the past week, the following were either de-commissioned or had Coast Guard crews removed:

Wakefield (AP-21), General C. H. Muir (AP-142), Sellstrom (DE-255), Ramadan (DE-382), Mills (DE-383), Rhodes (DE-384), Richey (DE-385), Savage (DE-386), Eugene (PF-40), and Knoxville (PF-64).

The USCGC Eagle, the former German training ship Horst Wessel, arrived at Funchal, Madeira, on 12 June, en route to New London, where she will be training ship at the Coast Guard Academy. She is expected to arrive sometime this month.

The Eagle will replace the Danmark, which served as training ship throughout the war. As the Horst Wessel, she was used to train officers and petty officers for the German fleet, and has been renamed for a revenue cutter which fought an engagement off Long Island with the British 18-gun brig Despatch over a hundred years ago.

Built in 1936, the Eagle will accommodate 220 cadets besides her normal complement of 81 officers and men. There are mess tables and steel lockers for the Cadets' gear and all quarters are steam-heated. The ship has a modern galley with electric ranges and refrigeration, and a small laundry.

She is larger than the Danmark, with a length of 194 feet, beam of 39 feet, and displacement of 1,727 tons. In addition to auxiliary power provided by an eight-cylinder, 750-horsepower diesel engine, she carries 21,300 square feet of sail on three masts, two of which are 150 feet above the waterline.

Personnel

Commodore Ellis Reed-Hill, USCG, was confirmed by the Senate last week to be Engineer in Chief of the Coast Guard with the rank of Rear Admiral.
